

Bill and Laura Fields

Oro Flame Mine

6255 R.W. Fields Rd.

Prescott AZ 86303

September 2, 2011

Dear Dennis and Solaro Staff,

My wife and I have been fortunate enough to live off the grid in the back woods of Arizona for forty years. At the time we started our home, the banks would not loan money to people in our situation. No electricity, no water, no septic, no loan. It took us four years to save up enough money to sink a well with a windmill and dig a septic system. It was truly life changing to get running water and a real bathroom!

Another major impact in our lives was when we bought our first photovoltaic panels. Goodbye gas generator! The indoor lighting in our house is wired for direct current, using 4 ft. florescent lights with DC ballasts. They were the most efficient lights for our power supply at that time. Through the years we enlarged our solar system but our home lighting was terrible. Our friends would laugh when we used flashlights to find things at night!

We have been searching for energy efficient lights for more than a year. We wanted lights that would not require us to change our DC wiring. No one seemed to carry what we were looking for until we took the advice of someone who had ordered "a fantastic light" made by Solaro Energy. The minute we saw the lights on the website we were intrigued and made a phone call to Solaro Energy. We knew we had found what we were looking for.

When the lights were delivered we were so excited, but we opened only one light, just in case they were not what we thought they were. Our first thought was, where is the light bulb? I put the light on a battery and could not believe the brilliant, natural looking light. These lights put out twice the brightness compared to our old lights and use less than half the power! The Solaro lights have a pleasant and natural light, like having sunlight in the house. The old florescent bulbs we were using were unhealthy and the Solaro lights have none of the negative health affects, they actually provide real health benefits!

We have been so impressed with the Solaro lights that we have replaced all thirty lights in our home with Solaro lights. This may sound funny but these lights have changed our lives for the better. Thank you Solaro Energy Company for brightening our home and our lives.

Bill and Laura Fields

Bill Fields
Laura Fields